webex
by CISCO

Cisco Video Phone 8875 for Webex

Simple, personal, scalable hybrid work in an affordable phone

Meet the new standard for hybrid work: Cisco Video Phone 8875 for Webex. The 8875 is a premium, touch-screen video phone that puts every meeting at your fingertips. Stay productive with a dedicated phone, keeping your laptop free for other tasks and tools.

Provide consistent and personalized experiences at any desk–at home or at the office. The 8875 is an affordable solution for modern hot desking*–simply login and authenticate to access your personalized schedule, join meetings, and make or receive phone calls from your phone number at any desk.

*Hot desking functionality requires Webex Calling Hot Desking feature update (Available 2H CY22)
Scalable hybrid work at any desk.

Common phone challenges for hybrid work:

- Tedious task switching between multiple collaboration tools and phone calls results in fatigue and delayed meetings.

- Video conferencing on a laptop can be challenging and contends with other applications for performance.

- Phone calls in noisy environments, like busy homes or office spaces, can cause distractions and interruptions for participants.

- Users have disjointed experiences between working from home and from shared desk spaces in the office.

Cisco Video Phone 8875 benefits:

- Easily connect with colleagues through seamless connection between the 8875 and your integrated collaboration app, Webex.

- Eliminate relying on your computer's performance for critical phone calls and meetings.

- Remove distracting background noise with the Webex audio intelligence features.

- Enjoy consistent and personalized experiences at any desk.

- Experience enhanced collaboration and enterprise-grade calling capabilities on your phone with Webex Cloud Calling.

- Simple cloud management for IT admin to deploy across large geographies.

Product overview

The Cisco Video Phone 8875 revolutionizes the hybrid work experience at an affordable price point. A modern, 7-inch touch screen is paired with a familiar dial pad to maximize productivity, regardless of the user's preference. The 8875 displays a unified contact list and call history on the device—and any Webex connected device or soft client—so all workers have consistent experiences at home and at the office.

Your desk phone got a major upgrade. The Cisco Video Phone 8875 brings personalized collaboration experiences to your fingertips.

webex by cisco

Features

Rich audio experience

Be heard clearly, with AI that optimizes for your voice. Limit distractions for participants in calls and meetings with intelligent background noise removal. The 8875 is compatible with Cisco headsets, delivering a simple, convenient solution for quality audio.

High quality video

Look great with a dedicated 1080p camera with a 60° adjustable viewing angle and 112° field of vision. And, when you don't want to be on video, simply close the built-in privacy shutter. Be seen in beautiful color to look your best on every call.

Modern solution for hybrid work

Work at any desk, in any office with an affordable solution for modern hot desking. Access your personalized schedule through calendar integration and join meetings right from your desk phone. Between user sessions, all personal information is removed from the device.

One button to join meetings

Access your personalized schedule through calendar integration with your desk phone. Start every meeting on time with simple one button to join meeting experiences—no complicated meeting IDs to enter.

Boost productivity

Eliminate reliance on your laptop performance for business-critical calling. Maximize your team's efficiency with a dedicated, always-ready device-keeping your laptop free for your other applications. Identify and solve problems faster with increased IT visibility to the phone and its accessories.

Integrated serviceability

The Webex cloud makes it easier to deploy, manage, and service your 8875 phones and more. Centrally manage your devices, profiles, settings and more from Webex Control Hub. IT admins can manage all Cisco devices, soft clients, and peripherals from a single pane of glass.

June 2022

For more information, please visit webex.com/devices/cisco-video-phone-8875

webex by cisco