

You're invited on a virtual field trip!

We are excited to announce, we've invested in new technology, making it possible for us to connect our students to anywhere around the world!

Our aim is to expose our students to a variety of different destinations, professions, and opinions, expanding their knowledge and perspective without ever leaving the classroom, and with no extra cost to parents.

We are inviting all parents to come and join us in our first of many virtual field trips. You will have the opportunity to ask questions to our remote expert if you want, but more importantly, you'll witness first-hand the new experience your child will now have in their class.

Come to parents night, and watch the magic happen:

1. Receive your invitation:

You will receive your invitation via email and will get a reminder before the session starts.

2. Join the session:

Come watch in person with the class. Or if you can't come live, click the link in your email invite to join the virtual field trip from home, and you're good to go!

3. Share feedback:

You will be added to the class parents Space, where you have the opportunity to provide feedback and discuss any ideas you may have with your child's teacher.

4. Enjoy:

Watch your child thrive in this new environment. They are going to love it!

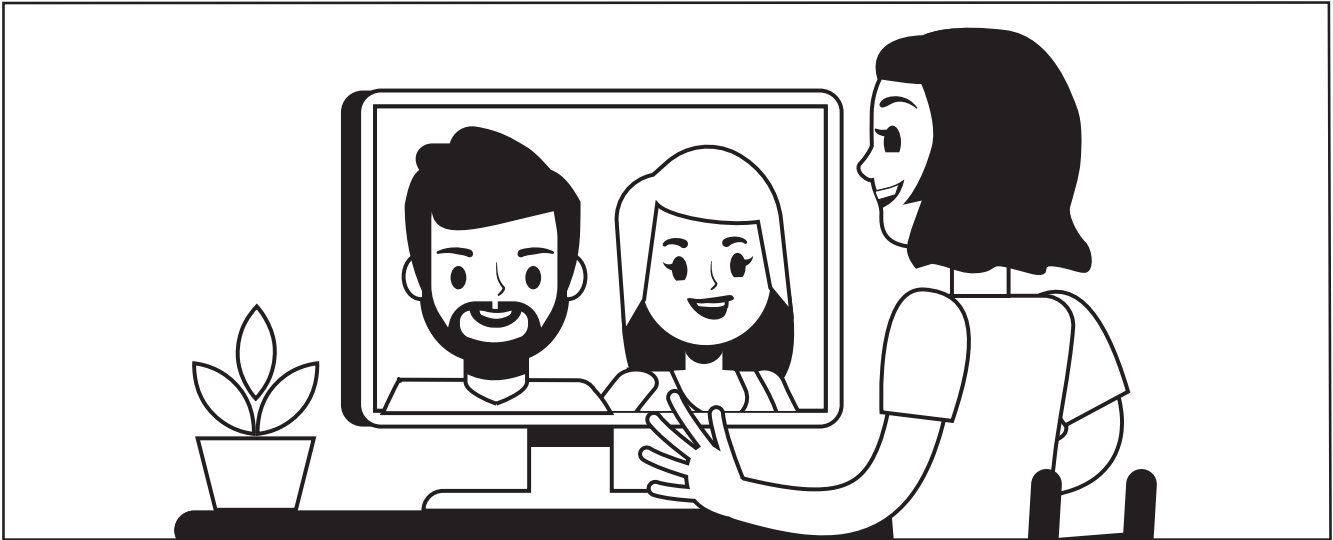

If you have any further questions about this, please contact your child's teacher who will be happy to help.

Let's expand your child's horizons together.

Try a: Virtual parent-teacher conference.

We know it can be a headache trying to find a slot when you and the teacher are both free for your parent-teacher conference.

To make things easier, we are introducing Webex, so you can arrange a virtual meeting with your child's teacher without driving to school. You can meet over a videocall to discuss your child's progress, successes, and areas for growth from the comfort of home, the office, or wherever you are, even using your mobile phone.

Starting the virtual meeting is simple.

1. Your invitation:

You will receive your invitation via email from the teacher for a time that you pick in advance. You will get a reminder to join before the meeting starts.

2. It's easy to join the meeting:

Click the link in your email invite to join your parent teacher conference.

3. Get connected:

Join with audio and video to start the conversation with the teacher, now you're good to go!

If you have any further questions about this, don't hesitate to contact your child's teacher who will be happy to answer any of your questions.
